

K-LOVE serves a great purpose in my community. They bring encouraging Christian music and God's truth to the Chicago area. They also play music that my kids like to listen to, that other stations may not. Since WZFS The Fish is going off the air, that would leave only one other Christian station in the area. With K-LOVE, we can hear uplifting Christian music at any time. If another low power FM station were to take their spot, it may not be a Christian station. I believe that this would not serve the public at large, as there are many Christians in the Chicago area.
